DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-8, are drawn to a method of assaying nucleic acids by molecular hybridization.

Group II, claims 9-17, are drawn to a kit for assaying nucleic acids by molecular hybridization.

The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group II, claim 9 is drawn to a kit that include abrasive sampling means able to retain biological material in the form of cells whereas group I, claim 1 is drawn to a method of assaying nucleic acids by molecular hybridization, that includes taking samples of biological material by a sampling device comprising abrasive sampling means capable of retaining biological material in the form of cells; isolating nucleic acids from the cells; and assaying the nucleic acids by molecular hybridization. A special technical feature would not join these two groups because the technical features recited in claim 9, are taught by Sakita et al (USPN 4,981,143 issued January 1, 1991), who teaches a cell sampler that include abrading segments (Fig. 2, elements # 5-7, column 3, lines 21-60) made of metal (column 4, line 7) having roughened surface (column 4, lines 15-17), whereas technical features recited in claim 9 are also taught by Volossiuk et al (Applied and Environmental Microbiology, 1995, 61, 3972-3976), who teaches a taking soil organisms from sand, clay and fine gravels, and grinding in mortar and pestle, that is a sampling device comprising abrasive sampling means capable of retaining biological material in the form of cells; isolating nucleic acids from the cells; and assaying the nucleic acids by PCR, i.e., molecular hybridization (Fig. 1).

Thus, there is no special technical feature linking the recited groups, as would be necessary to fulfill the requirements for unity of invention.

Notice of Possible Rejoinder

The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and the product claims are subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be considered for rejoinder. All claims directed to a nonelected process invention must require all the limitations of an allowable product claim for that process invention to be rejoined.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103 and 112. Until all claims to the elected product are found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowable product claim will not be rejoined. See MPEP § 821.04(b). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution to require the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
